The increased demand for linen is evident in the comfort, breathability and durability. They are naturally resistant to wrinkles and stains, and they are easy to wash and maintain. They are also naturally light and airy, making them ideal for warm weather. They are also naturally resistant to mold and mildew, making them a great choice for humid climates. They are also naturally fire-resistant, making them a great choice for fire-prone areas. They are also naturally hypoallergenic, making them a great choice for people with allergies.
They are also naturally antibacterial, making them a great choice for people with sensitive skin. They are also naturally UV-protective, making them a great choice for people who spend a lot of time outdoors. They are also naturally biodegradable, making them a great choice for people who are concerned about the environment.
