And so they sing the songs of the ancient past It is not a picture of the old - but a picture of the new and above all for every generation. All those who listen to it discover it is like a new life.

Play your part with the confidence of a queen, the grace of a ballerina, the elegance of a diva. A ballad of ancient grace, a tale of a woman who has lived a thousand lives, a woman who has seen the world from every angle, a woman who has known the taste of love, the taste of pain, the taste of life.
