Traditional Art

It is not only the way we dress, but the way we live. It is not only the way we think, but the way we feel. It is not only the way we act, but the way we are. It is not only the way we speak, but the way we listen. It is not only the way we walk, but the way we stand. It is not only the way we sit, but the way we rest. It is not only the way we sleep, but the way we dream. It is not only the way we love, but the way we care. It is not only the way we live, but the way we are.
