SAMAIRA

There's an elegance that's been lost in the modern world. It's a feeling that's been forgotten. It's a feeling that's been lost. It's a feeling that's been forgotten. It's a feeling that's been lost. It's a feeling that's been forgotten.

There is no more... the world is not the same... the world is not the same... the world is not the same...

THE CAPTURED MOMENTS

985-003

There's no right or wrong, all that we have are our choices. It's not the destination that matters, it's the journey.

A framed photograph of the same woman in the same red dress and shawl, set against a plain background. The photo is enclosed in a thin gold border. Below the photo, there is a small icon of a gramophone, the number '985-003', and a short quote in English.
